

The Bison Times

December 11, 2014

Volume 1, Issue 7

Special points of interest:

- Senior Christmas Party
- Yearbook Community Project
- Angel Tree Shopping
- Editors Say Farewell

Want us to cover a certain story?

Email us at

bisontimes@gmail.com

Co- Editors

Maggie Base
Kaylynn Chapman

2014 Wrestling Homecoming King and Queen Crowned

The 2014 Wrestling Homecoming Ceremony was held December 9th between the junior high and high school duals against Clinton.

Maggie Base and Bradley Ray were crowned Homecoming King and Queen. The attendants included: Freshmen Aivrie Drumm and Kendall Johnson, Juniors Emma Henke and Justice Yates, Seniors Monica Martinez and Jaycob Bates and Seniors Kaylynn Chapman and Markos Espinoza. Tristian Wood and Chana Ray were the crown bearer and flower girl.

Left-Right: Kendall Johnson, Aivrie Drumm, Justice Yates, Emma Henke, Tristian Wood, Maggie Base, Bradley Ray, Chana Ray, Markos Espinoza, Kaylynn Chapman, Jaycob Bates, Monica Martinez, Ethan Allen, Maria Ramos

Senior Students Spread Christmas Cheer

On Monday, December 1st the senior class got into the Christmas spirit by having an Ugly Christmas Sweater themed Christmas party. They received Piz-za Hut from STUCO for winning the bison battle back in October. The students also organized an "As Seen on TV" themed Dirty Santa game, along with a Ugly Christmas Sweater Contest.

There were 8 contestants in the Ugly Sweater Contest. The winner was Alyssa Sweezy, for winning she received a popcorn tin and certificate.

"It was a great time and I feel like we became closer as a class" stated one of the senior students, "I'm going to miss this so much after we graduate."

"It was a great time and I feel like we became closer as a class"

To spread some more Christmas cheer, 3 students went out and found a real

Christmas tree to set up in the hallway. They completed the task on the night of December 3rd and left the tree up until the 8th of December. They hope everyone enjoyed the tree and hopefully some one will continue the new tradition next year.

The senior class is already planning a Valentine's Day party to exchange valentines one last time just like in elementary school.

The real Christmas tree set up in the hallway

Alyssa Sweezy the winner of the Ugly Sweater Contest

The contestants of the Ugly Sweater Contest

Senior Class playing Dirty Santa

Editors Say Farewell

Next semester we will no longer be in English IV, we will be taking Comp 1 with Redlands. The Bison Times will have new editors. We both agree that it has been fun learning how to be an editor and we are so glad that Mrs. Charles gave us this assignment! We hope everyone has enjoyed The Bison Times this semester. We want to wish the new editors luck and can't wait to read it next semester.

"It's been fun learning how to be an editor, we're so glad Mrs. Charles gave us this assignment!"

Geary Students Score Big on College Final

At the beginning of the school year Senior students Maggie Base and Kaylynn Chapman started on their concurrent classes with Redlands Community College. The classes they enrolled in were Psychology and U.S. Government. Their Psychology professor, Mrs. Terry Corbett, gave them a project that they would begin at the beginning of November and would be due by December 2.

Maggie Base and Kaylynn Chapman

The name of the project given by their professor was The Game Project. The objective of the project was that you had to pick a partner and create an original game, on a game board, incorporating your favorite psychological concepts. Maggie and Kaylynn decided to name their game Brainiacs since it had to do with the four different lobes of the brain. After they figured out the name of their game and had it drawn out what they wanted it to look like, they got to work reconstructing an old game board, making their own game cards, coming up with the trivia questions from their psychology book to go on the cards, and creating their own little game pieces.

Brainiacs is a 4-player game and the objective of the game is that the four players take turns rolling a dice and traveling through the different lobes of the brain while successfully answering trivia questions about the lobes and different functioning parts. The first player to the end is the winner.

On December 2, after days of working on their game and having a few classmates test it out, they took their game over to Redlands in El Reno and presented it in front of their whole college class and their professor. The grade they received on their Brainiacs game was a perfect 110.

The cover of the box

Yearbook Takes on Community Project

With the yearbook students becoming more familiar with using Adobe Photoshop, the Yearbook Advisor, Amanda Garrett decided to use their new skills to help the community. The yearbook class would like to restore old photos that have been damaged in the past years.

"Pictures are very special and provide many years of memories, so being able to help people make the photos last even longer is a project I would love to participate in," stated one of the yearbook students.

If you have any pictures that you want restored you can bring them to the high school. They can also be emailed to gearybisonyearbook@gmail.com or you can call Amanda Garrett at (405)-884-5613.

To the right is a picture of a before and after example of what the students will be doing.

Beta Club Goes Angel Tree Shopping

On November, 25 the Beta Club traveled to the Walmart in Yukon to purchase Christmas presents for the Angel Tree program. The Angel Tree program provides Christmas gifts and clothing to children in foster care, in the care of a relative and to children whose families are on state cash assistance.

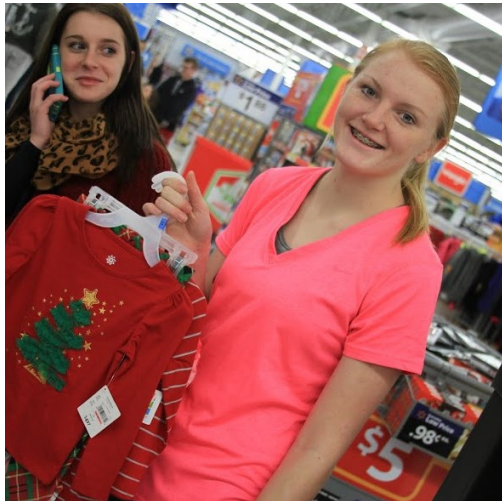

The Beta Club purchased Christmas presents for 20 kids. After the shopping was complete the club traveled to Johnny Carino's to enjoy an Italian meal. "I had a lot of fun and can't wait until next year!" stated one of the beta members.

The Beta Club participates in this community service project every year. The fundraisers and donations from the community allowed the Beta Club to provide gifts to more kids then they have ever before!

The Beta Club also hosted a Christmas tree raffle. It was a 7-foot pre-lit tree, that was won by Kim Lewis.

Alyssa Sweezy

Paydon Trumbley and Aivrie Drumm   Gage Owings and Kristian Castleberry   Haden Glasgow

Jose Perez

Montana Allen

Bryce Buffalomeat